Abstract

A survey was conducted to gather information on competitive fishing activities in Ontario during 2008. Information on 1,039 events was recorded. At least 71 of these events have been run annually for more than a decade. The majority (~73%) of competitive fishing activities were concentrated on inland waters particularly in southern Ontario. Based on comparisons with previous surveys, it is evident that competitive fishing continues to expand in Ontario. Other changes include an increase in the number of fish species being sought, an increase in the number of youth and family oriented events, and more events during the spring, summer and fall. It is recommended that another survey be conducted in 4-5 years in order to continue monitoring this activity.

Introduction

Competitive fishing has been defined as an organized event in which a group of anglers fish for inducements – awards, prizes or public recognition – in addition to the catch or satisfaction of catching fish (Schramm et al. 1991). The winner of an event is usually based on the size, weight and/or number of fish that have been caught.

Competitive fishing events include derbies, tournaments and contests. A tournament is a competitive fishing event requiring pre-registration where it is intended that angled fish be returned alive to the same waterbody from which they were caught. A derby is a competitive fishing event requiring pre-registration but which may not involve the live release of angled fish. A contest is a competitive fishing event that usually does not require pre-registration, often encompasses a large geographic area over an extended period of time and may or may not involve the live release of angled fish.

A survey was conducted in 2008 in an effort to evaluate the status of competitive fishing as an activity in the Province of Ontario. This represented the fourth provincial survey which had been conducted over the past twenty year period (1989-2008).

Survey Methods

A number of different sources of information were used to compile a listing of competitive fishing events which occurred in Ontario during 2008. MNR field staff were queried for information on events in their area of jurisdiction. A concentrated search was also made to obtain information which was posted on the internet. Information was also obtained from the news media (e.g., newspapers, magazines) and from large sporting events (e.g., Toronto Sportsman Show, Fishing and Boating Show, etc.). In several instances, event organizers were contacted by E-mail to get additional information.

Ontario does not have any type of registration for competitive fishing events. As a result, despite the considerable amount of effort exerted to compile a 2008 listing, it is recognized that this listing is incomplete and undoubtedly underestimates the actual number of events which occurred.

Results

Geographic Distribution of Events

A total of 1,039 competitive fishing events were documented during this survey. Inland waters accounted for 72.8% of all competitive fishing events in 2008. The vast majority of these events were concentrated in southern Ontario (Table 1).

Table 1. Geographic distribution of competitive fishing events in Ontario during 2008.

| Region of Ontario | Number of Events (% of Total) |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Southern Ontario | 586 (56.4%) |
| Northeastern Ontario | 97 (9.3%) |
| Northwestern Ontario | 74 (7.1%) |
| Great Lakes | 282 (27.1%) |
| Summary | 1,039 (99.9%) |

Several waters supported numerous events during the course of the year (Table 2). Many of these waters were similar to those identified during previous surveys.

Event Organizers

There was a wide diversity of organizers for events held in 2008 (Table 3). Club events held by two large bass organizations (Ontario Bass Federation and Canadian Bass Anglers Federation) accounted for the largest number of events by any organizer. Many fish and game clubs and service organizations utilized derbies and tournaments as fund raisers for local initiatives.

There were also a number of professionally organized tournament series (Table 4). The largest of these was the Competitive Sport Fishing League which is comprised of several different categories of event including Bassmania (18 events), WTC Walleye Tour (2 events), Salmon Masters Derby (1 event), BM 100s (4 events), CSFL Twilight Events (4 events) and Pikemia (2 events).

A number of tournament series have apparently been discontinued since the 2004 survey. These include the Millenium Bass Tournament Series, Bass'n'tario, Southwestern Ontario Bass Angler Series, Northeastern Ontario Bass Angler Series and the CFT Series.

New tournament series which have been created since the last survey include the Canadian Toonie Tournament Series, Bancroft Bass Tournament Series, Angler-Young Angler Tournament Series and BCT Bob's Tournament Series.

Many youth-oriented events were organized by the Kids, Cops and Canadian Tire series which is sponsored by the Izumi Foundation.

Temporal Distribution of Events

The temporal distribution of 982 events, for which information was available, is summarized in Table 5. There were at least 16 events which lasted for the entire fishing season.

Table 5. Temporal distribution of Ontario competitive fishing events compiled during a 2008 survey. Events where the date was not known or events which were more than one month in duration are not included.

| Month | Number of Events (% of Total) |
|--------------|--------------------------------------|
| January | 10 (1.0%) |
| February | 58 (5.9%) |
| March | 40 (4.1%) |
| April | 25 (2.5%) |
| May | 100 (10.2%) |
| June | 140 (14.3%) |
| July | 249 (25.4%) |
| August | 179 (18.2%) |
| September | 113 (11.5%) |
| October | 48 (4.9%) |
| November | 18 (1.8%) |
| December | 2 (0.2%) |

The timing of several youth and family oriented events was undoubtedly influenced by two provincial Family Fishing Weekends (February 23-24; July 4-6) during which an angling licence was not required. In addition there were a number of events associated with the National Fishing Week (July 5-13).

Duration of Events

Information on duration was derived for a total of 993 events during the 2008 survey (Table 6). Most tournaments and derbies were short term (i.e., 1-2 days) in nature. In other instances, such as big fish contests, events usually extended for the entire season. The largest extended event was the 2008 Great Ontario Salmon Derby which ran from July 5 to August 23 (50 days).

Table 6. Duration of competitive fishing events in Ontario recorded during a 2008 survey.

| Duration of Event | Number of Events (% of total) |

Long Running Events

As noted in previous surveys there are a number of events which have been conducted annually for a considerable period of time.

Table 7. Annual, long-running (> 10 years) competitive fishing events in Ontario recorded during a 2008 survey.

| Summary | 71 |

The annual Caramat fish derby is believed to be one of the longest running events in Canada. The 51st derby was held in 2008. This derby started with the assistance of a Marathon logging company and has evolved into a family weekend with a number of other related events.

The Nipigon Fall Fishing Festival originated in 1964. The fishing derby was part of a series of activities in a festival which was held over the Labour Day weekend. The first festival had a budget of $700 and realized revenues of approximately $1,500. This event was run by the local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion until 1997 when some other service clubs, including the Nipigon Curling Club, the Nipigon Elks and the Nipigon Hospital, assumed more organizational responsibilities. The event has grown over the years and, in 2008, the Festival received a government grant of $71,000 to increase marketing activities.

Another long-running event is the Bluewater Anglers Annual Salmon Derby. In 1981, the Bluewater Anglers took over hosting a small local salmon derby, which originated in 1976, in the Sarnia-Port Edward area. Originally it extended over a two week period but was reduced to a ten day event in the late 1990s. This derby has grown over the years to the point where there are approximately 1,000 entrants in the event. This derby provides the main source of revenue for the operation of a local fish hatchery.

Species Sought

A total of 28 different fish species were targeted by 2008 events in Ontario (Table 7). Bass and walleye accounted for almost half of the events however. Most youth events did not target an individual fish species. Unlike 2004, there were no events for Atlantic salmon in 2008. New species recorded since the last survey included sauger, lake herring and round goby.

Table 7. Fish species targeted by competitive fishing events in Ontario during 2008. For events which targeted more than one species, the event was recorded for each individual species.

Discussion

Comparison with Previous Surveys

There can be little doubt that competitive fishing activities are a substantial and increasing use of Ontario waters (both inland waters and the Great Lakes). The number of events appears to have grown dramatically over the past twenty years (Table 8). With in excess of one thousand events, the Province of Ontario is one of the most popular jurisdictions in North America in terms of competitive fishing activities (see Kerr and Kamke 2003).

When comparing characteristics of 2008 events to earlier years, some other trends are obvious. Although the majority of events are short in duration (e.g., 1-2 days) there is a modest increase in the number of seasonal and year-long events. This can perhaps be explained by the fact that there were substantially more lodge/resort big fish contests documented in 2008. These events tend to be more seasonal in duration.

The number of youth and family related events continues to increase. This can be partially attributed to the implementation of free Family Fishing Weekends (in February and July) when no fishing licence was required. National Fishing Week has also served to promote angling as a family activity. In addition, the number of organizations and service clubs sponsoring these types of events is increasing. A good example is the Kids, Cops and Canadian Tire program which supported approximately 50 events in 2008.

Competitive fishing as an activity also appears to be diversifying in the province. This is evidenced by the increasing number of species being sought and by increased activity during the winter, spring and fall. It is recommended that a similar survey be conducted in another 4-5 years to monitor growth and trends in this fishing activity.
